Iron Rule Clamped Down on Seething Italy

NATION RUMORED TO BE ON BRINK OF CIVIL WAR

Badoglio May Lose Control Unless Fighting With Allies Ends At Once

No Indications Yet Of Attempts To Meet Peace Demands

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 30—President Roosevelt today announced that the Allies are prepared to accept the surrender of Italy from King Victor Emmanuel, Marshal Pietro Badoglio or any other Italian who is not definitely a member of the Fascist party.

At the same time the President warned the neutral nations against giving haven of refuge to Benito Mussolini, members of his Fascist gang or any of the other Axis leaders.

The President issued a formal statement warning the neutral countries that the United States will regard any move by a neutral government to afford asylum to Axis leaders or their tools as inconsistent with the principles for which the United Nations are fighting.

LONDON, July 30—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's war cabinet met in extraordinary session early today as events in Italy approached a showdown and mounting turbulence throughout Axis Europe forecast a new crisis for Adolf Hitler.

The British war cabinet met at 1:30 a. m. for almost two hours of consultation. There were no outward indications the session had any particular international significance. But it coincided with a number of developments clearly indicating important developments are in the offing.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 30—A new heavy attack by Allied bombers on the Viterbo airfield north of Rome was disclosed by Allied headquarters today.

LONDON, July 30—Italian Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio was reported today to have clamped down with iron military rule as word spread that serious trouble is brewing in northern Italy and it was rumored that the country was on the brink of civil war.

Some quarters expressed doubt that Badoglio could prevent civil strife unless hostilities with the Allies ceased immediately.

Eight Point Peace Plan Indicated

Eisenhower Believed To Have Program Ready To Hand Italy

WASHINGTON, July 30—Authoritative diplomatic sources in Washington today expressed the belief that an eight-point program will form the basis of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's unconditional surrender terms to Italy.

With General Eisenhower authorized to handle any peace offers from the new royalist government of Italy, the possibility was seen that Marshal Pietro Badoglio may soon approach the American commander for further information concerning the exact nature of the surrender terms.

If Marshal Badoglio asks how Italy is expected to carry out those terms, the Washington diplomatic belief is that Gen. Eisenhower will outline the following conditions:

1. Immediate cessation of all resistance to the Allied forces by Italian military and naval forces.

2. Immediate cessation of all assistance by Italians to the German forces in Italy.

3. Withdrawal of all Italian forces from Yugoslavia, Greece, Albania, and France.

4. Take effective measures to prevent the destruction of Italian military and naval equipment, and supplies, which are to be placed at the disposal of the Allied forces.

5. Order the Italian army, navy and air force to take no further part in the war without the consent and supervision of the Allied high command.

6. Accept an Allied military government of Italy pending the conclusion of military operations in the Italian theatre of war.

7. Facilitate the apprehension of Benito Mussolini and other Fascist war criminals whose names appear on the United Nations atrocity "black list," for trial before Allied military courts.

8. Return all Allied war prisoners (Continued on Page Three)

MALIGNED P-40 PLAYING GREAT ROLE IN BATTLE

WASHINGTON, July 30—In a blunt reply to critics of the army's plane program, Acting Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson today described the maligned P-40 "Warhawk" as one of the top-ranking ships in World War II.

Patterson cited a report from Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, commanding general, 10th Air Force, in China, disclosing that P-40's recently scored a 14 to one victory over Japanese fighters during a raid on Hankow.

"That is the plane that some of the critics say is worthless," he remarked at his news conference.

Patterson's statement was the first official army comment on charges made by the senate Truman committee several weeks ago that the P-40 had a record of incompetent performance.

The Truman committee charged that the Army and Curtiss-Wright Aircraft Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., manufacturers of the plane, had concentrated production on P-40's, which were "relatively obsolete when we entered the war," and had "more limited value than other fighter planes."

The P-40 is a veteran fighter, oldest of all U. S. pursuit ships.

GIRLS TURNING OUT BAZOOKAS TO CRUSH AXIS

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 30—Girls who formerly helped make washing machines have been producing "bazookas," America's powerful anti-tank weapon on a mass production basis for the last year, it was revealed today.

General Electric Company, in a War department approved announcement, revealed that during the recent African campaign the "bazooka" was used successfully to destroy not only tanks but fortifications.

County Soldier Among First in Bizerte; Goes Through Nine Battles

Corporal Thomas H. Reichelderfer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Reichelderfer of Washington township, may have been the first Pickaway county soldier to enter the Tunisian city of Bizerte when it fell to American troops, a letter received Friday from the soldier indicates.

Young Reichelderfer, who is a member of a tank outfit, writes that part of his outfit was the first to enter the Mediterranean city. So far as he knows he is the only Pickaway countian serving in this particular unit.

While the letter, written June 23, does not give any more definite information, Corporal Reichelderfer is probably with General George S. Patton's outfit, and today may be moving along the Sicilian road toward Messina and the Italian mainland. His letter was written before the Sicilian campaign opened.

Young Reichelderfer wrote that his tank outfit spent six weeks in the Oran area after the North African invasion and that it engaged in nine battles. "I came through all of them without a scratch," he wrote, "but we had several narrow escapes."

The soldier declared that German dive bombing attacks were worse than any other kind of opposition they faced.

Corporal Reichelderfer and his buddy have engaged an Arab boy who does all their laundry work and other chores for them.

Northern Africa towns do not impress the soldier. "There is nothing to do but walk the streets," he writes.

TRAFFIC TOLL NOW HALF OF PRE-WAR FIGURE

CHICAGO, July 30—The pre-war traffic toll for America was cut almost in half the first six months of this year, the National Safety Council reported today.

The drop was 41 percent from the same period in 1941 and 32 percent from the first half of last year.

Traffic deaths through June of this year totaled 10,030, as compared to 17,028 for the first half of 1941 and 14,690 for the same period in 1942.

SUB DROPS BLIMP

WASHINGTON D. C., July 30—The navy announced today that a Nazi U-boat had shot down an American blimp during a battle between the undersea craft and the non-rigid airship in the Atlantic. It was the first of the navy's blimps to be shot down by gun fire from an enemy submarine. Only one of the blimps estimated crew of eleven was lost.

FIRE RAGING THROUGH GREAT GRAIN ELEVATOR

Loss Of At Least $500,000 Threatened At Plant In Chicago

THREE HURT IN BLAST

Firemen Order Nearby Residents From Homes As Safety Move

CHICAGO, July 30—A great fire, raging unchecked for hours, threatened a loss of at least a half million dollars today at the huge Norris Grain Company's midwest elevators on Chicago's south side.

The blaze, starting from an unexplained explosion in the main elevator spread to one and another of the 40 silos and small elevators owned by the company.

The flames destroyed the main elevator, which towers about 200 feet high, and in turn attacked the entire battery of 40 steel silo tanks which are more than 100 feet high.

Virtually the entire plant, located at 5556 Shields avenue, was destroyed as the flames raged uncontrolled.

Between a fifth and a sixth of Chicago's fire apparatus was called to the scene as the flames leaped rapidly from one building to another.

Three employees were injured, two seriously. An automobile was crushed flat by falling walls and debris.

Two freight cars met the same fate, and the Pennsylvania railroad lines there were completely tied up.

$100,000 Blast Loss

Damage from the explosion alone, which occurred in the main elevator, was estimated at $100,000.

Fire department officials said it might have been a grain dust explosion.

Residents in the immediate neighborhood were ordered to leave their homes because of the danger these too might take fire. Dense smoke was thrown over much of the far south side.

Those injured were Timothy Spratt, 50, stationary engineer; Alex Gaiches, 76, watchman, and Frank Ziegler, 61.

SHORTAGE FOUND IN CHAMPAIGN COUNTY FUNDS

COLUMBUS, July 30—A formal report of a $10,000 shortage at Urbana in the Champaign county treasury was released today by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

The shortage first was uncovered in April, when four crack state examiners established what Ferguson at that time labeled "the most clever piece of peculation since the Cuyahoga county scandal more than a decade ago."

The formal report lists a technical finding of $10,000 against County Treasurer Paul C. Russell and his bondsmen, although responsibility for the embezzlement is not fixed on him. The finding was made against Russell solely because he, as head of the department, is directly responsible for the funds in his custody.

Shortly after the preliminary report of the shortage, Russell charged his former assistant, Burleigh Woodruff of North Lewisburg, with the embezzlement. Further action was delayed until the report was completed.

"The charts contained in our report, and the books in the treasury which reveal deliberate juggling of figures, should fix the blame when offered as evidence in court," said Ferguson.

Faltering War Effort Of Germany Blamed For Duce's Downfall

STOCKHOLM, July 30—Reports persisted today that Germany's faltering war effort was directly responsible for the downfall of Mussolini.

Contributing factors to the demise of Fascism were said to include the decline in Germany's arms production, labor and aircraft shortages and failure of the U-boat war.

The initial account that responsibility for the Fascist collapse lay with Germany said that Mussolini was thrown out of office only a short time after the Italian military attache in Berlin informed his government of conditions and said Germany could not fight more than six months more.

"If this report is genuine, it really influenced the change in Italy's regime," said one paper, "then the change is even more depressing for Germany. It would mean that the Fascist dictatorship collapsed because it had lost faith in Germany's prospects for victory."

Italian consuls in Germany were said to have received orders to take steps to enable Italian workers to return to their homeland by August 1.

The German press generally continued to assert that "Italy will fight," the correspondent of the Dagens Nyheter said, while the Krakauer Zeitung was quoted as saying that "we must not cherish any illusions about Italy."

An attempt was made by a spokesman for the Wilhelmstrasse to laud Mussolini in his hour of decline.

"Mussolini was the first European statesman to revise the Versailles treaty," he said. "He will play an important role in future history books."

One report said that German reinforcements have been dispatched to the Balkans, but Berlin did not disclose whether this was necessitated by the withdrawal of Italian troops.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Well, the spaghetti jumped out of the frying pan and some of it is in the fire.

We no more than got through cheering the departure of Benny the Bum than crowds were marching through northern Italy waving the red flag and singing the Internationale.

The only parallel in history is the near-sighted parson who collected two dollars from his wife, shook hands with the bride, kissed the groom and left on his honeymoon.

He knew what the ceremony was for, but he didn't recognize the participants.

The American, British and Canadian armies brought the downfall of Benito the Bum and what happens? The Communists crawl out from under the rocks where they've been hiding for twenty years and telegraph "nice work Joe" to Moscow.

That makes a very nice kettle of fish, but Eisenhower is an expert chef. Any man that can make a tasty dish out of two kinds of French will have no trouble with two kinds of antipasto.

Thought for the day: Leave it to Ike.

THREE KILLED, SCORE HURT IN INDIANA STORM

CHARLESTOWN, Ind., July 30—At least three persons were killed and a score injured when a tornado struck this war-manufacturing town, officials reported today.

None of the war plants in the area was damaged and the tornado spent most of its force in an old section of town and in a new federal housing project which is to cost $700,000. It struck late last night.

Police from Louisville, Ky., and New Albany and Jeffersonville, Ind., aided Indiana state police in rescue work.

Germany's bomb-devastated port of Hamburg was attacked in strength early today for the seventh time in six days by waves of Royal Air Force bombers.

Well over 2,000 tons of blockbuster bombs again were dropped on Hamburg, it was disclosed.

The R. A. F. lost 28 bombers while three Nazi fighters were shot down.

The bombers found that the Nazis had increased their ground defenses over Hamburg and numerous enemy fighters were encountered over the target.

The enemy defenses did not succeed in interfering with the highly concentrated attack, however, the communique said.

The raid was the 105th assault on the port, greatest in the Reich and largest on the continent, and placed Hamburg second on the list of cities most-bombed by Allied aircraft.

Americans Hit Enemy

Medium bombers of the United States air force kept up the series of aerial assaults unbroken since last Saturday by attacking the airfield at Woensdrecht, Holland, this morning immediately after return of the RAF craft from Germany.

Intruder aircraft bombed Nazi airfields at Merville, Coulommiers and Schleswigjagel and attacked railways at Nantes and Forges.

The success achieved by Allied airmen in the constantly mounting assaults on the Reich prompted Brig. Gen. Frederick R. Anderson, Eighth Air Force bomber chief, to declare that "the battle of Germany is swinging in our favor."

"The lives of thousands of Allied soldiers and sailors have been saved by the effective work our bomber crews have done in the last few days," he said.

"They have brought great destruction to German war industry, curtailed severely the Nazi capacity to wage submarine warfare (Continued on Page Three)

YANK FIGHTER BEST IN WORLD, VETERAN SAYS

CHICAGO, July 30—"No fighting man in the world can compare with the American boy," Lieut. Comdr. Robert Montgomery, former movie actor and now a veteran of three battles, declared in Chicago today.

The film star, who flew to Chicago to act as master of ceremonies at the "Meet Your Navy" show tonight, joined the British ambulance service in September, 1939, served in France until that country capitulated in 1940 and accepted a navy commission when the United States entered the war.

"I've seen the troops of several nations under fire—but these American youngsters just can't be beat," he said. "They have a God-given sense of humor. Whether they're scared or not, they keep right on."

FDR Helps Vatican In Rapprochement Hope With Soviet Russia

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Just before he left the United States for the war zone, Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, the President's closest link with the Vatican, told friends of weekly conversations he had had with Pope Pius XII in which His Holiness expressed hope for an early understanding between the Vatican and Soviet Russia.

Archbishop Spellman was secretary to the Pope when, as Cardinal Pacelli, the Pope was Vatican secretary of state, and he remains one of Pius XII's most trusted confidants. All during the war and until the New York archbishop left the United States, the two conferred regularly by trans-Atlantic phone at 1 p. m. on Wednesdays.

These phone calls, never before publicized, are one of the anomalies of the war. Though this meant a telephonic hookup of two enemy countries, connections were made promptly and the conversations never censored or garbled—at least from our side.

When the history of this war is written, it may show that the trans-Atlantic calls between the Pope and his closest adviser in the United States played an important part in paving the way for a rapprochement between the Vatican and Russia. Pius XII dropped many tell-tale hints in these talks about discord in Italy, which were relayed to the President.

POPE AGAINST DICTATORS

Speaking from an enemy country, the Pope could not of course unburden himself of his innermost feelings toward the Axis, but Archbishop Spellman told friends that he manifested his contempt for Hitler and Mussolini in subtle ways. He was extremely depressed about the state of affairs in Europe and once confessed to his former secretary:

"I'm very lonesome and worried. I wish you could come over and visit me because I need your advice very much."

It was shortly after this that Archbishop Spellman left to visit the Pope and to take up his new duties as "military vicar" of Catholic chaplains of foreign war fronts. In the light of the foregoing background, his itinerary is interesting. After flying to Lisbon and thence to Madrid, a Spanish plane carried him to Milan, Italy, from where he was driven to the Vatican with an escort of Italian soldiers.

In several of his trans-Atlantic see him. Opening the door of the oxygen tent, she told her husband: "Hiram, there is one thing I think I ought to tell you. The newspapers are saying that in case anything happens to you, Herbert Hoover will take your place in the Senate."

The explosion from inside the oxygen tent was terrific.

"Get this—thing off of me!" fumed the Senator from California. "There's nothing wrong with me. I'm feeling better already."

Naval doctors says that from that point Senator Johnson began to improve rapidly.

FARM TOOLS

President Roosevelt has on his desk a report which may mean plenty of trouble for the big farm machinery companies.

The report states that in the Middle West, some of the farm implement companies not only have been spreading poison against him, but also have been withholding machinery parts in order to force the government into resuming the manufacture of implements.

The problem with most farmers is to repair their machinery. While they would like to be able to buy new equipment, they are patriotic enough to scrape along with what they have—provided they can buy spare parts.

But these spare parts, according to information reported to the White House, have been made purposely scarce. Big farm implement people are accused by White House advisers of keeping repair parts off the market in order to force the War Production Board to relent on its order against the wholesale manufacture of implements.

If this is correct, the strategy has been successful. For the WPB ban has now been lifted.

MUSSOLINI-GO-ROUND

Mussolini and his son-in-law Count Ciano are reported to have about $15,000,000 cached in neutral Argentina. Ciano and daughter Edda are safely ensconced inside Vatican City where Ciano is Ambassador and enjoys diplomatic immunity. There is no way he can be extracted unless the Pope chooses to expel him. It is a safe bet Ciano will not risk coming out on his own for a long, long time.

While the Italian nation was strictly rationed, Count and Countess Ciano added to their popularity in Rome by throwing elaborate parties. Caviar, lobster and champagne featured the menu.

When Augusto Rosso, former Italian Ambassador in Washington, was transferred from Russia to be Italian Ambassador to Turkey, the

Badoglio May Lose Control Unless Fighting With Allies Ends At Once

(Continued from Page One) measures after allowing the people four days in which to demonstrate their approval of the overthrow of Mussolini and his Fascists, but apparently decided that matters were getting out of hand.

Demonstrations calling for an end to the war were reported continuing as Allied quarters anxiously awaited reaction of the Badoglio government to the peace offer put forward yesterday by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

No word from Rome. No official comment has yet come from Rome. An indication of the restrictive measures being taken by Badoglio was seen in the report that three leftwing papers which began publication Monday after announcement of the fall of Mussolini had been closed down. Severe press censorship was enforced.

The restrictions including the banning of all political parties for an undetermined period. Although there was nothing official on possible attempts of Badoglio to meet the Allied demands of unconditional surrender, reports reached London that Luigi Cardinal Maglione, Papal secretary of state, had received several diplomatic representatives for consultation. Pope Pius XII, it was said, is fully informed twice daily in inspiring events.

The angry mood of mobs in Milan was illustrated in a report that one group decapitated a statue of Mussolini and pelted it with rubbish. Balkans Seethe. There were further reports of unsettled conditions in the Balkans as a result of the exit of the Fascists from Rome. Premier Miklos De Kallay of Hungary was reported to have resigned. "Serious incidents" of an undisclosed nature were reported to have occurred in Dalmatia, Serbia, Albania and Montenegro.

Swiss editors with good contacts in Rome warned their staffs to be ready to rush special editions to press announcing Italy's surrender. A report that German and Italian troops had clashed at Milan could not be confirmed. As the situation in Italy neared a climax the British war cabinet was reported to have met for two hours beginning at 1:30 a. m.

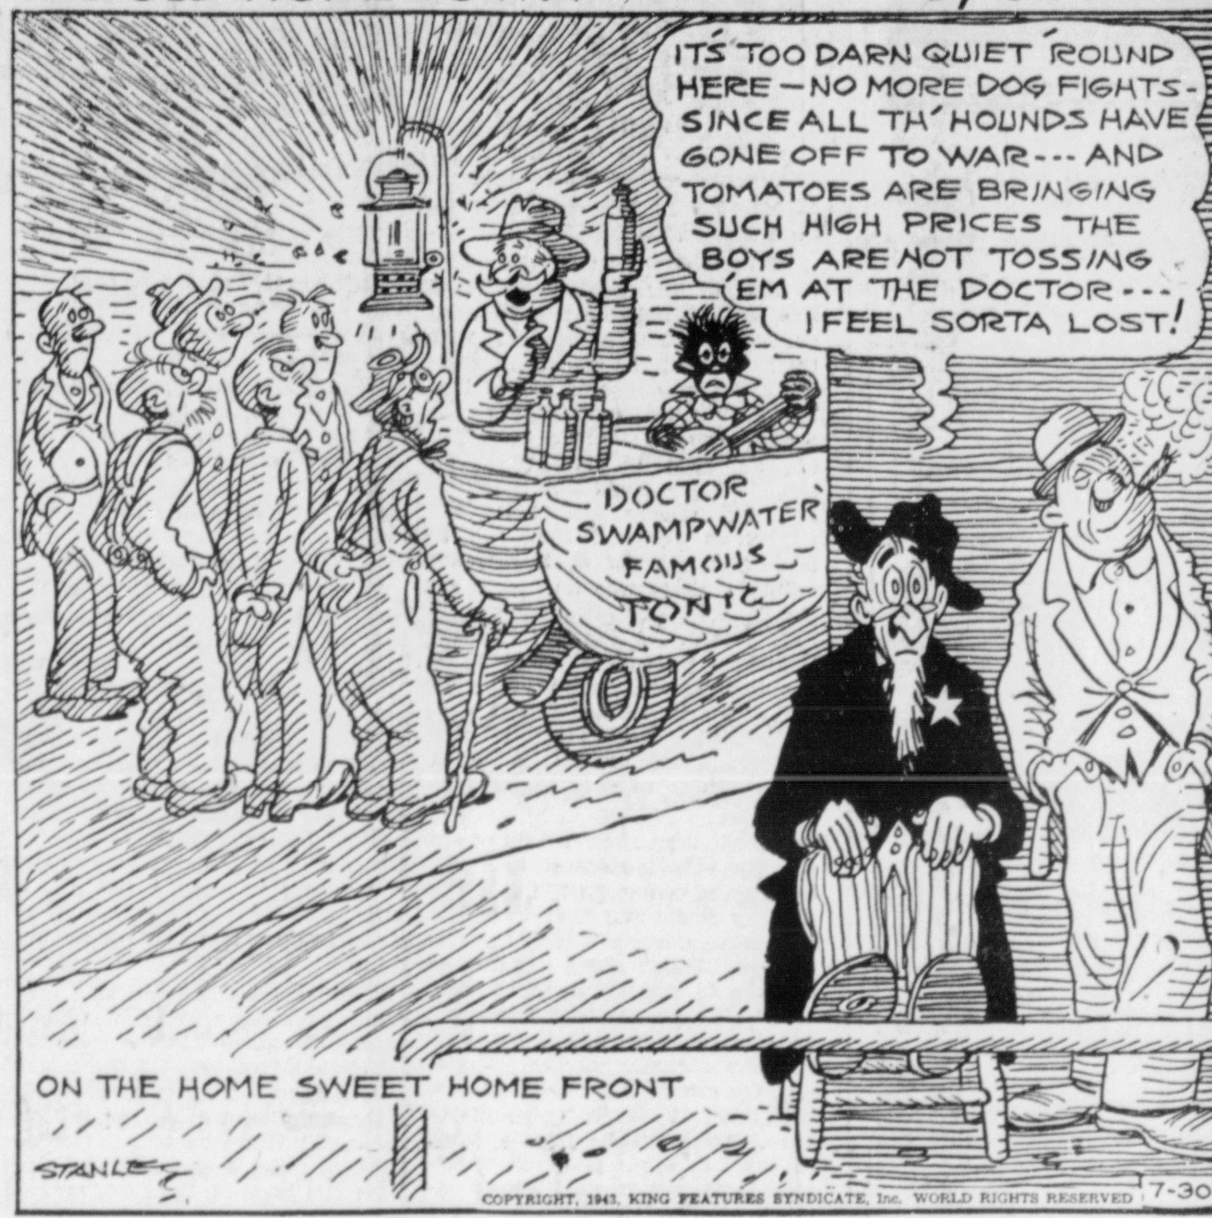

Observers in London felt that the popular clamor for an end to hostilities might soon force Badoglio and King Victor Emmanuel to take some direct action following Gen. Eisenhower's offer of an honorable peace if the Italians cease all assistance to German forces now on their soil. Desire Peace. A Daily Mail dispatch from the Italian frontier said that the king and Badoglio announced that the sole object of the new government replacing the deposed Fascists was peace, but declared it must be a peace permitting Italy to become neutral and remain unoccupied.

The Rome radio asserted that the terms involved in the Eisenhower offer contradicted the general's "so-called honorable surrender" offer. This offer, said the Rome transmitter was "logically absurd for a country which has fought with a valor that has been recognized by all adversaries met on the battlefield."

The Italians were beset by a further grave situation in the north where some 600,000 Croats, always resentful toward Italy, demanded independence for the Istrian peninsula. This development was believed responsible for the entry of new German troop divisions into the cities of Trieste, Fiume and Pola and the rest of the peninsula as a "protective" move.

Several new changes in the governmental setup by the nation were reported by the Rome radio. One announcement said that special tribunals for defense of the state had been suppressed by decree and that military tribunals will take over.

GAG RULE ON AAA REMOVED BY WASHINGTON

The voice of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration may again be lifted. Two weeks ago AAA officials in Washington declared that no persons employed in an AAA office throughout the land would be permitted to give out any information concerning the government's crop program, no matter how important the information might seem to the community in which it was being published. The gag rule was a must order, with no ifs or ands about it.

Pickaway county AAA office, which has been a principal source of information concerning the government farm programs for many years, adhered to the gag rule. But Friday the AAA changed its decree, deciding that the regulations which banned news releases should be withdrawn. Congressional opposition was given as the principal reason for the action.

The gag order affected 200,000 state and local farm committees serving the AAA, the decree being based on a provision of the recently enacted AAA supply bill which prevents use of any AAA money to pay salaries and expenses of regional, state and local AAA press agents.

Congressmen claimed that the supply bill regulation had never intended to put a ban on farm program information.

Alkire Loses Appeal. Pickaway county Selective Service office was sustained Friday in a draft appeals board decision in the appeal of Thomas Alkire, who has been working in Pittsburgh. Alkire had appealed the draft board's 1-A classification on grounds of dependency, claiming that he should be entitled to 3-A rating.

lio's difficulties as insurmountable and say that the power of government will be taken over by the socialists and workers parties as soon as they are organized. German forces on both sides of the Alps were reported preparing for any eventuality.

The Exchange Telegraph Company carried a Zurich dispatch saying it was learned "authoritatively" that General Blaskowitz has been appointed to command German troops in upper Italy and a special corps in southern Germany. His forces command all railway connections leading to the vital Brenner pass, it was said.

Exchange said it was impossible to determine whether German divisions now moving in the direction of the Brenner pass had crossed the Italian frontier.

Reports that the Germans were occupying important ports on the Adriatic sea remained unconfirmed. One Berne source said that the Italian fleet was ready to put to sea on a moment's notice, presumably to prevent the ships from falling into German hands. Disposition of the fleet was reported among the chief subjects discussed by Badoglio with German military leaders.

YANKEE U-BOAT VISITS JAPAN

The sub shelled a number of large radio equipped sampans close to the Japanese coast, on one occasion setting one afire by running alongside and tossing blazing oil-soaked rags aboard after killing the crew.

The Japs ashore must have been fully aware an American raider was near because the sampan, Commander Brockman said, "lit up like a Christmas tree, exploded and sank."

In the battle of Midway, Commander Brockman surfaced "right in the middle" of the Japanese task force and during the sub's attack on the carrier it underwent repeated depth charge bombings, one of which lasted two and a half hours during which 75 depth charges were dropped.

It was Commander Brockman's submarine which carried Lieut. Col. Evans F. Carlson and Maj. James Roosevelt and their Marine corps raiders on their raid on Makin Island in the Gilberts.

And it was his submarine that evacuated 14 nuns, 3 planters' wives, 3 children and 9 men from Bougainville island, right under the nose of Tojo.

Commander Brockman is making a tour of naval training stations, explaining that life aboard a submarine today is far from unpleasant, the modern sub being air conditioned, amply supplied with refrigerated fresh meat and vegetables and containing plenty of "stretchin' room."

RATION BOARD GIVES WARNING TO GAS USERS

Motorists and all other gasoline users were reminded Friday by the Pickaway county War Price and Rationing office that all coupons in their gasoline ration books must be indorsed immediately.

Coupons in new books issued after July 22 should be indorsed on the face of the coupon as soon as they are received from the ration office, George D. McDowell, board chairman, pointed out.

In the past it has not been necessary to write notations on coupons until they were actually used to buy gas.

Immediate indorsements are required under a new OPA amendment both as a convenience to the public and as a help to OPA investigators in checking misuse of ration coupons falling into the hands of persons not entitled to them, the board chairman pointed out.

"Under the new plan the motorist by spending a few minutes indorsing his coupons all at once will save delay and trouble when he goes to a filling station to buy gasoline," said Mr. McDowell.

"The new requirement also means greater protection to the motorist whose book is lost or stolen, since the finder or thief will not be able to pass off the coupons as his own by writing in his own license number," the chairman added.

"By cooperating in making these indorsements promptly the rightful holders of a gasoline ration will be rendering invaluable assistance to OPA in its job of detecting and preventing a black market in gasoline and gasoline coupons. Indorsements make it possible to distinguish the coupons that have been properly used from those obtained through black market or other means."

FUNERAL SATURDAY FOR MRS. HOWARD EISENBREY

Funeral services for Mrs. Howard Eisenbrey, 23, the former Geneva Carter of Clarkburg, who died in New Orleans hospital Monday of injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident near Camp Pontchartrain, La., will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. in Brown's Chapel cemetery. The Rev. D. V. Whittenack of Clarkburg will officiate.

Mrs. Eisenbrey's husband, Sergeant Howard Eisenbrey of Camp Pontchartrain, is recovering from severe injuries suffered in the motorcycle mishap.

HUN PORT HIT SEVENTH TIME IN SIX DAYS

Increased Nazi Defense Knocks Down 28 Of Big RAF Planes

200 Hun Planes Fall. "Upwards of 200 German fighters have been destroyed since Saturday. In addition many more probably were destroyed or damaged and trained pilots are difficult to replace."

Bitter opposition from Nazi fighters was encountered by the forts over Kiel although there was little opposition over Warnemunde. At least 30 Nazi fighters were destroyed over Kiel by the Americans who lost 10 planes in their twin assault.

The American raids were supported by United States Thunderbolts and RAF Dominions and Allied Spitfires. Canadian fighters destroyed three German planes.

"It's the best bombing ever," declared the senior U. S. staff officer after examining photographs showing severe damage to the Heinkel works.

"Every single bomb hit the target."

In Sicily, American troops were poised at Nicosia, only 18 miles from the northern anchor of the enemy line at San Stefano, for the final battle of Sicily. And to the east, the Germans were desperately bolstering their defenses at Catania by feverishly installing heavy artillery on heights facing the British Eighth Army.

Fierce Fight In North. In Russia, a fierce battle raged between Soviet and German forces for a strongly fortified town 21 miles south of embattled Orel, beleaguered German railroad base 200 miles south of Moscow.

The Moscow newspaper Pravda said the contested Nazi bastion was just east of Knotnets, which the Germans have acknowledged to be the key to Orel.

This report followed a Russian communique saying the Nazis rushed new troop reinforcements and replacements from distant fronts and even from France and Germany into the battle for Orel. The bulletin announced Soviet gains up to seven miles and capture of 40 more towns and villages in their three-pronged drive against Orel.

From the southwest Pacific, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced a new advance of 200 yards by American jungle troops surrounding the Japanese air base at Munda, on New Georgia island in the Solomons. The bulletin also reported gains by American and Australian troops pushing towards Salamaua, in New Guinea. Salamaua itself was again blasted by Allied bombers which poured down 94 tons of explosives on the enemy base.

The communique also disclosed that a second Japanese destroyer was knocked out during a two-day attack on an enemy shipping convoy off Cape Gloucester, New Britain.

William Pile, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Pile of Edison avenue, received his commission as second lieutenant and wings as a pilot in the U. S. Army Air Force at commencement exercises Thursday at Blackland Army Air Field, Waco, Texas. He is being sent immediately to Del Rio, Texas, for several weeks training with his combat plane, a B-26.

Young Pile has been in the Army Air Force for 19 months, taking a full course in ground mechanics before being assigned for training as a pilot in September, 1942.

Before he entered aviation school, young Pile served as chauffeur for Colonel Harry D. Jackson when he was based at Camp Shelby, Miss.

FRANK J. KRIEGER DIES AT SON'S RESIDENCE

Frank J. Krieger, 63, of near Stoutsville, died Thursday at 11:10 p. m., at the home of his son, Roy Krieger, north of Ashville, following an illness of two years. Born in Pike county September 24, 1879, he was the son of Frank and Dorothy Simon Krieger.

Mr. Krieger is survived by his widow, Mrs. Dora Krieger; one son, Roy; one daughter, Mrs. Helen Valentine, Stoutsville Route 1; two sisters, Mrs. Rosa Scharenberg, Circleville R.F.D., and Mrs. Simon Peters, Stoutsville R.F.D.; two brothers, Charles of near Circleville and Lewis, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Circleville Church of Christ in Christian Union of which he was a member, the Rev. O. L. Ferguson and the Rev. Ross Hayslip officiating. Burial in charge of the Whitsel Funeral Home, Chillicothe, will be in Springlawn cemetery, Williamsport. Friends may call at the residence, near Stoutsville, where the body will remain until time of services.

KINGSTON

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Famulener and daughter Mary Lou spent the week end in Dayton with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leist and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bookwalter and daughter Kathryn Ann are passing the week at Buckeye Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Evans and children of Dayton, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Evans.

There will not be any August meeting of the W. S. C. S., of the Methodist church.

Robert Gower and David Evans are attending Camp Mingo, the Boy Scout camp near Bainbridge, this week. Just 55 scouts are registered there.

Miss Mary L. Harpster left Wednesday to attend the Lancaster Federation of W. C. T. U. at the Lancaster camp ground on Thursday. From there she will motor to Lakeside to be the assistant hostess at the W. C. T. U. cottage, for the month of August.

Loss Of At Least $500,000 Threatened At Plant In Chicago

(Continued from Page One) chest and severe burns; Ziegler severe burns, and Spratt a broken leg and a possible skull fracture. The latter said:

"I saw a tremendous burst of flame and then debris began to rain down on me."

The three employees were injured by a blast in the dust room, a structure immediately south of the towering 200-foot main elevator, which was surrounded by the smaller elevators and silos.

So powerful was the blast that 10-ton scale hoppers, atop the big elevator, were jarred loose and fell to the ground.

Superintendent R. A. Anderson said the silos were filled with soy bean products. They contained 250,000 bushels of soy beans, 250,000 bushels of soy bean meal and an undetermined quantity of soy bean oil.

13 ACTIONS FOR DIVORCE FILED DURING MONTH

Divorce petitions have been comprising the great bulk of common pleas court business during the month of July with 13 actions for divorce already on file with another day to go.

One new petition has been prepared almost each two days, the latest being filed Friday by Mrs. Iva Jean Smith of Ashville against Alfred E. Smith, Ashville Route 1. Gross neglect and cruelty are charged. Mrs. Smith, who was married in Russell, Ky., September 10, 1939, asks custody of one child.

Of the 13 petitions put on the record this month, 12 have been brought by wives, the husband being the plaintiff in only one action.

In checking the new cases filed in common pleas court, the docket shows that only 18 new actions have been started in July there being only five cases in addition to the divorce petitions.

MORE PIPELINERS ON MOVE TO CIRCLEVILLE

More pipelers, persons employed in ditch digging, welding and placing of the new 20-inch petroleum products line running from Beaumont, Texas, to the east coast, are starting to move into Circleville to start work on the line.

Construction of the 20-inch line, which will parallel the 24-inch crude oil line through which oil is now moving to the east coast, is in charge of the C. S. Foreman Co., the firm which put the 24-inch line under the Scioto river, Deer creek and Darby creek in Pickaway county.

The 20-inch line is moving eastward from the Middletown, O., area.

In return for fulfillment of these conditions, the Allies will stop waging war against Italy and Gen. Eisenhower will agree to permit Italian war prisoners held by the Allied forces to return to their homes after they have taken an oath not to bear arms against the United Nations again.

Assurances also will be given the Italian people that their liberties and traditions will be respected, and that they will be accorded an opportunity to choose freely the leaders and form of government they want after the war is ended.

This program is in line with the public statement Gen. Eisenhower broadcast to Italy yesterday in which he offered the Italians an "honorable" peace.

VACANCIES EXPECTED ON COUNTY SCHOOL STAFFS

With August 1 the deadline for already-employed teachers to take new jobs without approval of the board of education which had already hired them. George D. McDowell, county superintendent, said Friday that he is anticipating several vacancies to develop in the county school roster in the next two days.

At present Mr. McDowell is helping various school superintendents of the county find teachers to fill 11 vacancies. The administrator said that other vacancies are almost certain to develop between now and Saturday night. Two vacancies remain in Circleville, four teachers having resigned and two having been employed for the new term.

POPULATION OF COUNTY REMAINS AT LOW EBB

County jail population remains at a low ebb with only five inmates booked at the present time. Sheriff Charles Radcliff said that three of the inmates are listed as trustees, doing odd jobs about the jail, the garage and the courthouse.

Carrie Bates, Logan street, was released Thursday, cutting the population to four, but she was back in the jail Friday after the sheriff claimed she took a new safety razor with her when she checked out.

Country Club Bridge Party Proves Success

Mrs. Brehmer and Miss McCrady Win Prizes

Miss Mary McCrady and Mrs. Brehmer carried home lovely trophies for scores in the games at the Ladies' Day bridge luncheon Thursday at the Pickaway Country club. Five tables were in play following the excellent luncheon served at noon.

For the occasion, the large porch was colorful with many attractive arrangements of beautiful Summer garden flowers. More than 30 members and out-of-town guests were served at small tables. The guests included Mrs. Joe Bell of Kings Mills, who was entertained by her mother, Mrs. Brehmer; Mrs. William Allen of Midland, Ky., guest of Mrs. P. C. Routhahn; and Miss Betty Parquhar of Wilmington, guest of Mrs. Ray Alter.

The next social function of the club for women members will be August 10 when bridge will again follow a noon luncheon.

Arrangements for the parties are in the charge of the house committee comprised of Mrs. J. E. Groom, chairman, Mrs. Clark Will, Mrs. T. O. Gilliland, Mrs. T. D. Harman Jr., Mrs. D. A. Yates, Mrs. P. C. Routhahn and Mrs. H. O. Grant.

Joint Meetings

Ladies' Aid society and Missionary society of St. Paul Evangelical church of Washington township held joint meetings Thursday at the home of Mrs. Oakley Leist, Washington township. Twenty-three were present for the afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph DeLong read the chapters of the study book during the program hour. Mrs. Arthur Leist, president of the society, led the devotional service of scripture reading and prayer. Mrs. Lawrence Warner, vice president of the missionary group, conducted a brief business period of the organization. She presented also a resume of the recent missionary convention.

The informal social hour was concluded with seasonal refreshments.

Lutheran Family Circle

Lutheran Family Circle enjoyed a delightful outdoor meeting and picnic supper Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther List and family of Circleville Route 1. Sixty were present for the evening.

A softball game between teams of the men and women was followed by an excellent picnic supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schwarz and Mrs. Gilbert Edgington were in charge of the entertainment comprised of games, contests, stunts and humorous readings. Communion singing was a feature of the occasion.

The next meeting, August 26, will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walters, Circleville township.

D. A. C.

Seventeen members of Colonel William Ball chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists, were entertained Thursday by Mrs. Homer H. Peters of Columbus at her summer home, near Lockbourne. Mrs. Mary Taylor of Plain City, an associate member, joined the group for the meeting. A delightful luncheon was served at noon on the large screened porch, just off the dining room. Mrs. Peters was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Angell, and granddaughters, Jo Ann and Carolyn Angell, of Bexley.

Mrs. Ada B. Chance, regent, conducted the board meeting which preceded the regular session. After the D. A. C. ritual led by Mrs. Robert Trimble, chaplain, and the Salute to the Flag, Miss Florence A. Alkire, acting secretary, and Mrs. Orion King, acting treasurer, read the monthly reports.

Mrs. Eleanor W. Bisell read an interesting paper which she had prepared on the subject, "Lights of Other Days."

She told of the early American pioneers lighting their cabins by means of a fire built on the floor in the center of the room. Smoke escaped through a hole in the roof. Later pine torches, from fat pitch-pine or from rushes dipped in grease or tallow were used. To avoid smoke, they were placed in the corner of the fireplace. When nights were long and the days were short, folks slept from "Can't See to Can See."

About 1650, Mrs. Bisell said that candles began to be used, being made of tallow, later from beeswax, deer suet, bear grease, moose fat and bayberry tallow. Bayberry candles were very fragrant and the berries of enough importance to be under control of laws.

She discussed whale fishing as one of the most fascinating commercial industries. The oil from the whales she declared made a vast and cheap supply for metal and grease lamps. It was asserted that spermaceti candles gave off more light than three tallow candles and had four times as big a flame.

She described various methods of "striking a light," by the use of flint, steel and tinder, and later by using a little box called a "mill," made with a string and revolving part, very like a humming top. The first matches were sulphur dipped, and 100 years ago were neither cheap nor common, a box of 84 selling for 25 cents. Time was extended in American life with the coming of artificial light.

The next meeting of the chapter will be at the home of Mrs. King, West High street. It was voted to have a luncheon at the Pickaway Arms instead of the usual cooperative meal.

Circleville chapter members present at the Thursday session were Mrs. Bisell, Mr. King and Mr. Noah G. Spangler.

God Delivers His People

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 1 is Exodus 5-12, the Golden Text being Psalm 50:15, "Call upon Me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify Me.")

MOSES and Aaron, brothers and sons of Levi, were chosen by the Lord to lead their people out of Egypt into Canaan, the land "flowing with milk and honey," which had been promised them.

These two went to Pharaoh and begged that they be allowed to lead the Israelites into the desert for three days that they might worship their Lord and offer sacrifices to Him. Pharaoh's answer was: "Who is the Lord that I should obey His voice to let Israel go?" He not only would not let them go, but declared he would see that the straw that had heretofore been given them to make bricks was taken away, and they were made to get their own straw. More than that, if they did not make the same number of bricks as before they were to be brutally beaten. They were idle, he insisted.

The leaders of the Israelites went to Moses and Aaron and told them about the straw and beatings, and insisted their interference might mean death to their people.

Moses Pleads for His People
Moses went to the Lord and pleaded for his people, and the Lord told him, "Now shalt thou see what I will do to Pharaoh: for with a strong hand shall he let them go, and with a strong hand shall I drive them out of his land."

When Moses, thus encouraged, appeared again before Pharaoh, with Aaron, to prove that he indeed spoke with authority, Aaron threw his rod on the ground and it became a serpent. However, Pharaoh's magicians did likewise, so the miracle did not so much impress Pharaoh, even though Aaron's serpent swallowed the others. He still would not let the people go.

The third time the two leaders went to Pharaoh and threatened to turn the waters of the Nile into blood if he did not let them go. He refused, and so it came about that the water everywhere was changed to blood and there was none to drink. The fish in the river died, and the river smelled terrible. Pharaoh's magicians also did this, and so he still refused.

After seven days the water returned to its natural state.

The next plague with which the Lord afflicted the Egyptians was frogs. They were sent to swarm over and into everything. The magicians performed this miracle, too, but Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron and asked that they plead with the Lord to remove the frogs and he would let the Israelites go. When the Lord, at Moses' request, removed the frogs, Pharaoh's heart again hardened.

The plague of lice created out of the dust at the smiting of Aaron's rod, was next. The magicians could not duplicate this one, and frightened, said, "This is the finger of God." But Pharaoh's heart was hardened and he paid no attention to them.

The Plague of Flies
The Lord then told Moses to get up very early in the morning and stand before Pharaoh as he went to the water, and tell him if he did not let the Hebrews go He would bring a plague of flies, which He did when Pharaoh refused. There were no flies in Goshen, however, where the Jews had their homes. This time Pharaoh said he would let them sacrifice to their Lord right there in Egypt, but Moses and Aaron said if they did the people would be stoned by the Egyptians, so refused to do so.

Then followed the murrain which killed cattle, horses and camels, and boils which afflicted men. Pharaoh's heart was still hardened, although he knew the Israelites were spared these plagues. The plague of hail came next, hail and fire which "ran along the ground" and killed man, beast, and growing things. Still Pharaoh would not yield, and the next plague was a swarm of locusts, which devoured every living thing the hail had left. Pharaoh was shaken and confessed that he sinned, but as soon as the plague was withdrawn he again refused.

A thick darkness then fell on the land for three days except in the houses of the Jews. Pharaoh told them they could go to sacrifice but could not take their cattle with them, and Moses refused this. Pharaoh told Moses he never wanted to see him again, and Moses answered, "Thou hast spoken well, I will see thy face no more."

The last and worst of all the plagues was the death of the first-born of every Egyptian, from the Pharaoh's son to the child of the least of the peasants. The Jews were commanded to kill a lamb in every house, take its blood and sprinkle the posts and lintels of their homes, so the angel of death would pass them over. This deliverance is memorialized every year to this very day.

Calling Moses and Aaron by night, Pharaoh ordered them all to go forth, and with them all their possessions. So commenced the great pilgrimage of the Israelites to their promised land.

LUSTY BABY

Actually a baby in comparison with other comedy programs that have been around for years, the Jimmy Durante and Garry Moore giggle revue, heard Thursday nights on NBC, nevertheless is now among the six best programs on the air in audience listening, according to the latest survey report. Xavier Cugat supplies the music on the series and vocals are by Georgia Gibbs. The whole troupe goes to Hollywood after the August 5 broadcast from New York and will air from there for at least ten weeks while the principals are engaged in film work.

"OLD MAN RIVER"

First sponsored program of the NBC Symphony Orchestra conducted by Dr. Frank Black Sunday, August 1, at 5 p. m., e.w.t., will feature the conductor's own "free fantasy" of Jerome Kern's familiar "Ol' Man River."

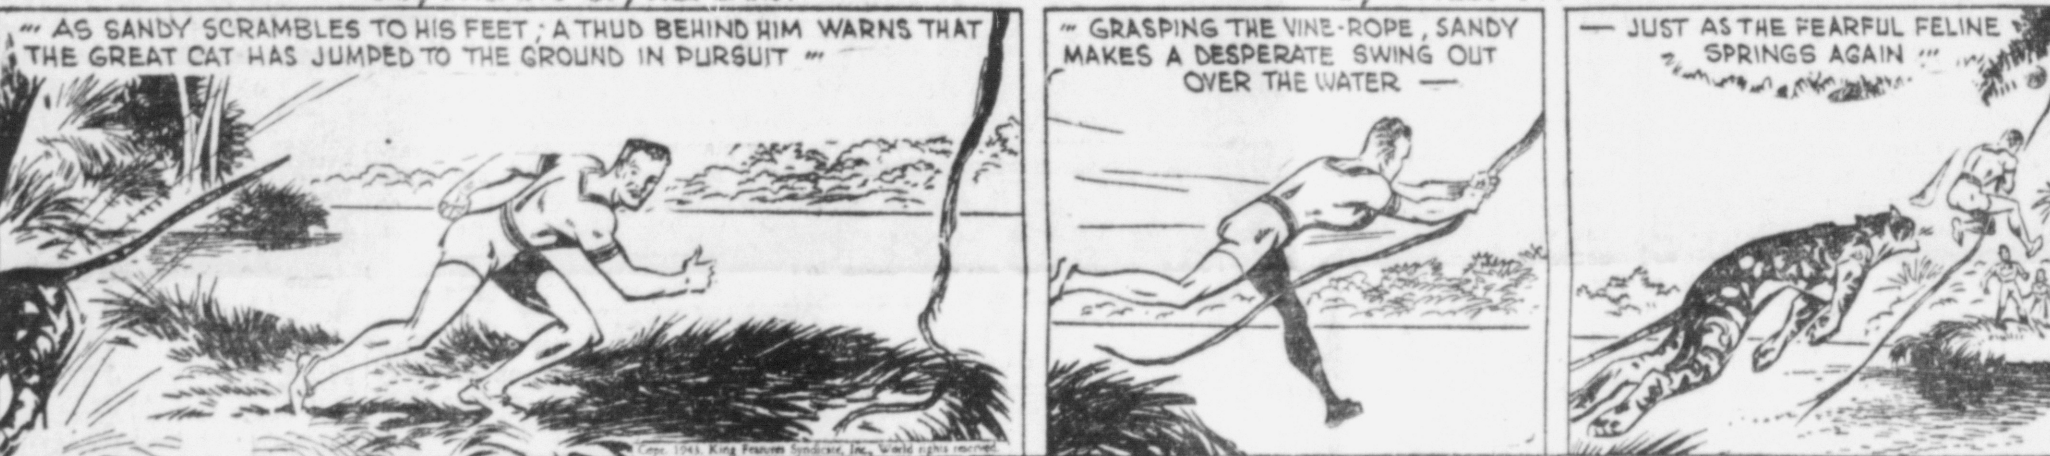

CHICO MAY RETURN

Chico Marx, who appeared with Brother Groucho on "Blue Ribbon Town" recently, may make a return visit shortly. There is talk even of re-building the old Marx Brothers team via the air, one brother at a time, but Groucho contends he can double for Harpo, who, he says, "only blows his own horn and chases women, and I've been doing both those things for years."

KAISER AIDS KYSER

Kay Kyser and his radio crew not only headed the biggest benefit in Oakland's history the last week-end, but took in three bond rallies at three Kaiser shipyards on the same day. Henry Kaiser, in appreciation, donated $1500 to Kay's drive to raise $18,000 to build a swimming pool for wounded service men. At least reports Kay's monster benefit had brought in the full amount and construction can start at once. Kay also donated his full salary for a "Spotlight Bands" broadcast Thursday. It was the first time in history that the U. S. Navy permitted private participation in a Navy project.

NINA TELLS TALE

Nina Wilcox Putnam, the short-story writer, told this story about her visit to pre-war Japan on Mary Margaret McBride's NBC program. She was one of a group of important Americans being shown through the palace in which all Jap emperors must be born. They were shown rooms beautifully decorated (mostly with Chinese ornaments, she said) on one side of the corridor. So she quietly left the party when the guide wasn't looking and opened a door on the other side of the hall. The room was filled with dilapidated furniture, brass beds and the worst taste in art. "Those were the rooms in which the royal family actually lived," she told Mary Margaret. "They preferred that to the luxurious beauty of the other rooms!"

Inside Stuff--Last year members of the Radio Directors Guild gave their services free to put on a radio series for the Treasury Department. But they found that the man who was supposed to be books guest stars for them also had charge of another guest-star program that he favored. As a result one of the directors' shows changed its star eighteen times before it went on the air. Last week Jack Johnstone, director of CBS' "Crime Doctor", found fifty tickets to the rival show at Guild headquarters. He handed the secretary a dollar for postage with instructions that she send each director one ticket! "Never had more fun with a dollar bill!" says Jack.

County's Annual Corn Pack Gets Under Way Saturday

ESMERALDA TO OPEN SEASON OF PROCESSING

Winorr Plant Ready To Swing Into Operation Monday Morning

EARLY CROP DAMAGED

Late Food Grain Promises Excellent Production In District

Pickaway county's annual corn pack, expected to be a normal one, will get under way Saturday with the Circleville Esmeralda Canning Co. being the first to send corn through its processing tanks and into cans which will serve domestic, military and lend-lease purposes.

James I. Smith, general manager of the Esmeralda plant, said Friday that the wheels would turn Saturday for the first time this summer. The Esmeralda firm does not pack earlier crops, corn being its major product.

Winorr Canning Co., which recently completed packing a normal pea crop, has set Monday as the day for its initial corn pack, while the Crites Canning Co. interests, centering its efforts in the big plant at Ashville, will open operations Tuesday.

Quality Undetermined

The size and quality of the corn crop may not be known for several days. The canning factories report that prospects are favorable, but that many things can happen to the sweet corn before it gets to the processing bins.

Corn prospects this year are better for the late crop than for the early pack. Much corn was planted early in May, and then heavy rains came to delay more planting. After the rains subsided many thousands of acres were planted, and it is this corn that packers are expecting to provide them the bulk of their pack.

Weather in the last few weeks has been ideal for this later corn, the sun being warm for two weeks following rain, then more rain falling to give the corn an opportunity to develop. Rain of the last two days has been excellent, factory operators point out, in preparing the corn for the trip to the various factories.

Crites Closes Plants

Meinhard Crites of the Crites Co. said Friday that his firm would not operate its plant at New Holland this year because of labor shortages. The corn pack has been an important industry for New Holland in the last 25 years. All corn packing activities of the Crites Co. will be taken to Ashville where sufficient number of employees was available to handle the pea pack.

Question of labor remains an important one, the manpower shortage ever facing the canners. None of the factories is afraid of shortages at the start of the corn pack, but all are keeping their fingers crossed and hoping for the best when the pack swings into its rush period.

Help Pledged

Local civic organizations have pledged their assistance in case of emergency, and canners indicated Friday that they are looking for this pool of available assistants to tide them over any rough spots they may encounter.

One canner said Friday that the sign up of regular labor at his plant is normal, but he added, "we can not say now that the labor supply will be sufficient throughout the pack. We are looking toward these civic organizations which have pledged cooperation to come to our aid if they are needed."

A large percentage of corn packed this year in Circleville and Pickaway county factories is already earmarked for Uncle Sam. Much of it will be put into the warehouses to be shipped later to government warehouses for distribution to the army and navy and to be assigned to lend-lease channels.

THIRD WAR LOAN CAMPAIGN PLANS MADE BY WILL

Clark Will, chairman of the successful Second War Loan drive conducted in Pickaway county in April, said Friday that organization is being perfected here for opening of the Third War Loan campaign on September 9.

The treasury department is seeking 15 billion dollars in the September drive. Mr. Will has been informed, but local quotas have not yet been assigned.

Pickaway county went well over the top of its $1,611,000 quota during the April campaign.

TWO VETERANS JOIN AIR STAFF AT LOCKBOURNE

Two new instructors, both veterans of numerous engagements with the Axis on world fronts, have been added to the staff at Lockbourne army air base.

The additions to the staff are Lieut. Joseph DiSalvo, 27, of Batavia, N. Y., and Lieut. Bernard A. Goncher, 24, of Johnstown, Pa., both of whom have many engagements to their credit.

Highlight of Lieut. DiSalvo's experience in 11 months over combat areas of Europe was his service as co-pilot of the plane which carried General Dwight Eisenhower, commander-in-chief of Allied forces in the Mediterranean area on a mission from Africa to Gibraltar. DiSalvo spent four months in England and seven in Africa, participating in more than 50 missions. His plane is credited with five enemies destroyed and seven probably downed.

Lieut. Goncher participated in 51 missions, most important of which was a diverting action in which his B-17 and five others drew 150 Nazi fighters away from a target area which was later attacked by other Fortresses. During the diversionary raid 13 Nazi fighters were knocked down without loss of a B-17. He, too, fought over Europe and Africa and is credited with 12 enemy planes.

ROTARIANS HEAR CHARLES EVANS, DISTRICT CHIEF

Charles Evans, of Chillicothe, district governor of Rotary, addressed the Circleville club Thursday noon on the meaning of Rotary International, pointing out that the organization is the largest of its kind in the world, that its international weekly attendance figure is better than 85 percent, that one of the aims of Rotary is to help direct "our way of living and thinking and to lead to a better understanding of ethics in our business and professional life."

The role Rotary is playing in the war effort was discussed by the district governor, who declared that the international organization is making a world wide contribution.

"Rotary helps a man to change from his selfish views to a better civic understanding," Mr. Evans told his listeners. "The organization's work brings out the good that is in a man."

Following the regular meeting the chairman of each committee met with Mr. Evans to discuss the year's program, and many plans were worked out.

The club voted to assist Father Edward Reidy of St. Joseph's Catholic church in promotion of the church's recreation center for all youths of the community, this Fall and Winter program to be announced soon.

Dr. G. D. Phillips, Rotary president, announced that the August 6 meeting of the club would be a smoker at the Pickaway Country club at 8 p. m.

PICKAWAY 4-H MEMBERS HELP TO BUY BOMBER

Pickaway county's 4-H club boys and girls, many of whom have been buying War Bonds and Stamps regularly, are now taking part in an Ohio 4-H club campaign to buy a bomber during August and September.

F. K. Blair, Pickaway county extension agent, said that local 4-H club members are among the 45,000 Ohio boys and girls who will be engaged in the August and September War Bond campaign directed by the state 4-H club organization.

The state-wide organization is training its guns on a heavy bomber which will require purchase of $350,000 in War Bonds during the two months. In case that objective proves to be too ambitious a medium bomber will be bought, $175,000 to be required in bond and stamp purchases.

Mr. Blair pointed out that every 4-H club in Pickaway county can trace its records and find names of many former members who are now helping Uncle Sam on all the war fronts, many on big planes such as they are seeking to buy with their bond purchases.

The War Department has informed Ohio 4-H club leaders that they may choose a name for any plane purchased through their efforts. Suggestions for a name which may become as famous as the "Swoose" or "Memphis Belle", or any other, should be sent to C. C. Lang, 4-H club leader at Ohio State university.

SPEEDERS MAY BE PUT AFOOT BY RATIONERS

Action taken by War Ration boards in Columbus indicates that motorists who insist on violating safe driving regulations as set up by Office of Price Administration may soon be walking instead of driving their cars.

War Ration Board No. 1 in the capital city ordered six motorists to put their cars in the garage when the board revoked their gasoline purchase permits for 30 days each. All six were certified to the OPA board after they were convicted of speeding more than 45 miles an hour.

The Columbus board disclosed that 10 more motorists convicted as speeders are scheduled to appear for a hearing Friday, with indications being that more motorists may have to do some walking.

Pickaway county ration board has revoked gasoline rations of three local motorists since the suspension authority was granted. No cases are pending at the present time.

LOCKBOURNE TO ENTERTAIN BIG CAPITAL GROUP

Lockbourne army air base will be the gathering point for two big organizations Sunday, the Columbus Chamber of Commerce and its more than 500 members and members of 10 teams playing in the state finals of the American Legion baseball championships being invited to the field.

Colonel A. C. Foulk, commander of the base, has designated Captain John M. Gould, special service officer, to serve as host for the two organizations.

NO OFFICIAL NOTICE OF RATION FREE COFFEE

Although President Roosevelt announced Wednesday night that coffee rationing had ended, Pickaway county War Price and Rationing board has not been informed officially that coffee should be sold ration free.

Some Circleville stores continued Thursday and Friday to collect ration stamps for coffee sold over their counters.

PROMINENT BANKER DIES

John W. Seidensticker, 63, prominent Columbus banker and an acquaintance of numerous Circleville and Pickaway county bankers, died Thursday night at his home. Mr. Seidensticker had been president of the Market Exchange
